Dear Mr. [REDACTED]

STAT

I want to thank you again for meeting with me last week. Your recollections have added an important dimension to our study and--we hope--will enable us to portray the events of the past with greater accuracy and sensitivity than otherwise we would be able to do. And in a more personal vein, it was good fun to meet someone whose reports and memos have occupied my time in recent weeks.

In reviewing the tape of our session together, I have been delighted to find fully confirmed my initial impression that it is chock full of revealing anecdotes and shrewd assessments. As an added bonus, your somewhat cryptic advice offered as we were standing in your driveway has already produced tangible dividends. I hasten to add that your name was kept entirely out of my inquiries.

It will take our secretary some weeks to transcribe the several tapes that I have collected for her, so do not be surprised if you do not hear from me for a month or so. With a bit of luck, however, I shall have a transcript in the mail for you to review towards the end of December.

Again, thank you for your hospitality. And please know of our keen appreciation for your cooperation and assistance.

Sincerely,

IS
